PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- Full-time freelance translation and editing beginning in 1999. Long-term relationships with major translation firms such as Burg Translations in Chicago, Geotext Translations and Rennert Translation Group in New York and Tembua in Minnesota began in 2001. In subsequent years more agencies were added to the roster, including Translation Aces and Eriksen Translations in New York, CETRA in Philadelphia and Academy of Languages in Seattle.
- Notable translation accomplishments: 200+ patents from China and Taiwan, mainly in the field of medicine; 100+ medical trials; 100+ purchasing and merger contracts; 350,000+ words from Chinese military and defense journals; 43,000+ words from Chinese newspaper articles for a database used for machine evaluation of translations; a total of 56 concert reviews for the New York Philharmonic's tours of Asia in 2002, 2008 and 2015.
- Fully experienced with machine translation post-editing, now forming a large portion of my work.

What I Offer

I produce 1,500 to 2,500 words of translated text per day working in a home office with my partner and wife Toni Kuo, who translates into Chinese. We often consult with each other on translation projects. I am a native speaker of English.
